Chaitra Betageri is a litigation associate at Larson O'Brien. Her practice focuses on complex commercial disputes and white collar criminal defense matters.

Prior to joining Larson O'Brien, Chaitra was a litigation associate at a law firm in San Francisco, where she represented large financial institutions in mortgage banking, banking operations, and class action matters. She previously worked at the Marin County Public Defender's Office, where she represented clients charged with misdemeanors.

Chaitra received her law degree from Berkeley Law in 2016. During law school, she competed on the Trial Team and was a member of the Berkeley Business Law Journal and the Boalt Hall Women's Association. Chaitra received her undergraduate degree from the University of California, Berkeley. As an undergraduate, she coached high school debate teams and participated in student government.
