OFFICE Orange County

William Ceravone is a paralegal with more than a decade of experience supporting complex litigation in state and federal courts.

He works closely with trial teams on high-stakes matters, assisting from case inception through trial and appeal. He brings technical fluency and a collaborative, solutions-oriented approach to every matter he supports.

He has served as first-chair paralegal in numerous trials and arbitrations, managing sophisticated electronic evidence databases, conducting comprehensive e-discovery workflows, and ensuring seamless presentation of digital evidence. With an extensive knowledge of legal processes, he has developed streamlined systems that enhance efficiency across litigation teams.

William earned his B.S. in Applied Legal Studies and a Paralegal Certificate from Suffolk University.

Outside of the office, William enjoys spending time with family, staying active, and exploring new places around Southern California.
